Love

Angel's Touch by Lisa

Believe, Be Open, Be Willing, Be Surprised!

Enjoy the Moment! Miracles happen to those who believe in them!

Mediums: Also known as a sensitive, an intermediary between a living person and a spirit, by channeling we provide a bridge in communication with the spiritual realm, Angels, Spirit Guides, and deceased loved ones.

What is an Angel reading? I begin by having the client (sitter) hold a deck of Angel

Oracle cards, and concentrate on a specific question or set an intention, in their mind as they are holding & shuffling the deck, by doing so they are imposing their energy onto the cards. The cards are used as a visual for the clients, and they are only a tool to allow the spiritual realm to interact with the physical, to manifest within the spread of the cards. I pull out cards from the deck, how and as many as I am guided to do so, allowing synchronicity in the cards to relay an answer, or messages, asking the Angels to elaborate on the meaning of the cards, pertaining to each client, for healing & guidance. I also invite your deceased loved ones in spirit, into the session, they in turn might relay messages, send telepathic impressions of themselves to me to relay to the sitter. So then the sitter can identify and validate who the individual is in spirit, allowing us to know that they are at peace, and eternal, to facilitate love and healing into the reading. Please remember I am just a messenger, through subjective impressions of spirit, I only can relate what I see, there unfortunately is no exact science to this kind of work, only faith, love and trust, and belief, that we are eternal. I use my ability to allow information to flow from spirit, by means of God (the Higher Being) the Angels, Archangels, Spirit Guides, including Animal Guides, and sometimes deceased loved ones, all from the spiritual realm. I hear and see beyond the veil, I am Clairaudient, Clair-sentient, and Clairvoyant. I only want to use these abilities for the highest good, to help others heal, to empower everyone to their true self. We are all spirit, having a human experience, our journey never ends, it only continues. I am not a fortune teller, but sometimes I do see things, that might be in the past, present, or future, I never know, for there is no element of time on the other side. All things are possible, with God, and with your help, but nothing is ever written in stone, because of choice and free will.

Unfortunately fear is a part of our human consciousness, fear of doubt, disbelief, fear of the unknown. Fear limits, and interferes with us from making contact with our deceased loved ones in spirit, and human conditioning limits us to believe in the continuity of life, and that we do interact with the spiritual realm, more often than we know! Just be open to receive & believe!
